Oilmen golf in heavy rain

Torrential rainfall over the weekend did little to slow down the 130-plus golfers who gathered for Elk Point Oilmen's 5th Annual Golf Tournament. They just traded their golf cleats for gumboots, slipped on their slickers and carried on as planned.

A somewhat soggy crew was on hand for trophy presentations Sunday afternoon, with the general feeling that it had been a good tournament despite the weather.

Doug Loupa, with 111 strokes, won the Championship Flight by a narrow margin, just ahead of Ken McCaw with a 113 score. Ed Soldan picked up the Consolation trophy with 118 strokes, while Dave Rattray accepted the Huff & Puff for his 121 score. Trophies for the Championship Flight were donated by the Elk Point Oilmen's Association.

Phil Shankowski was First Flight winner, with Terry Rae as Runner-Up, Don Osborne, Consolation, and Tom Seal, Huff & Puff, all for trophies from St. Paul and District Co-op.

Second Flight trophies from

Pac Construction went to Homer Poitras, 1st, Art Lypka, Runner-Up, Cliff McClain, Consolation, and Craig Stone, Huff & Puff. In the Third Flight, Alvin Liknes was declared the winner, Mark Lane was Runner-Up, Charlie Mahon won Consolation, and Rod Aasen, Huff & Puff, for the BMW Monarch trophies.

Leeway Heavy Oil trophies in the Fourth Flight went to winner Bob Lee, Runner-Up Robert Bepalko, Consolation, Ernie Poitras, and Huff & Puff, Wayne Hanson. Curt Bruggencate was Fifth Flight winner, with Runner-Up Pete Thatcher, Consolation, John Yaceyko, and Huff & Puff, Dale Appleton, winning trophies from Dearborn Chemicals.

Alchem Inc. donated the Sixth Flight trophies, which went to winner Duke Snider, Runner-Up Bob Mackay, Consolation, Alan Early, and Huff & Puff, Owen Gilbert. Seventh Flight donor was Westmin Resources, with trophies going to Jim Krissa, winner, Brian MacKinnon, Runner-Up, Mike Scott, Consolation,

Department of Agriculture comes to Elk Point

DISTRICT AGRICULTURALISTS—Terry Holmgren and Kirsty Ross and District Home Economist Monica King will be visiting their new sub-office in Elk Point on a regular basis to bring Department of Agriculture services to the eastern portion of the County.

By Irene Magnusson

An added service to citizens of Elk Point and the surrounding area will be offered by the Department of Agriculture, with the new program which commenced on Wednesday last. The services will not be new, but a whole lot easier to access.

Kirsty Piquette, District Agriculturalist, and Terry Holmgren, District Agriculturalist, both of St. Paul, together with Monica King, District Home Economist, also of St. Paul, were in attendance at the Elk Point Town Office, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. last Wednesday, to give attention to any problems or questions brought to them of an agricultural or homemaking nature.

Their plan is for one or both of the DAs to be in Elk Point on coming Wednesdays, at the same time period, to try to bring their services closer to those who need them in this end of the County.

Holmgren feels it is an imposition to people living so far away, such as the Heinsburg area, to have to travel to St. Paul when they need to consult with their DAs. While anyone may call their office in St. Paul, to some County residents this is long distance. A phone number will also be available on the Elk Point office days, if anyone wants to call them in Elk Point. There are several numbers: 724-3810, 724-3968, and 724-4033.

As examples of the kinds of services the DAs will offer, one farmer brought two samples of badly damaged tree leaves, which came from his ornamental trees. They were diagnosed as having leaf-miner bugs at work, and remedies were recommended.

Advice was offered on combating fairy-rings in lawns, to an-

Good attendance for Elk Point Fair

By Irene Magnusson

It was kind of the weatherman to allow us one fair day, so we could get ready for the Fair, but the raindrops dripped and the storm clouds stormed on our viewing day. All this weather activity resulted in a wonderful showing of vegetables, fruits and flowers. Exhibitors were moved to bring out their showiest house plants, on that sunny day, and we were treated to a generous display.

Perhaps the showers brought many viewers to the Fair, who may have found other things to do, had it been sunny. Whatever the cause, there were certainly plenty of viewers, to make the effort all seem worthwhile.

Ninth Flight sponsor was Novacorp Transport, winner was Darrel Baltesson, Runner-Up, Jack Lavender, Consolation, Dave Grasser, Huff & Puff, Dale Harlton. Tenth Flight was sponsored by DrakeWell Services, with winner Ole Westergaard, Runner-Up Michael Kachmar, Consolation, Don Harlton, and Huff & Puff, Ron Johnson.

Eleventh Flight winner Myles Woloshyn, Runner-Up Andrew Boddy, Consolation, Neil Brown and Huff & Puff, Roland Moneta,

Sonny Veenstra was Thirteenth

Kevin Bjornstad was Fifteenth Flight winner, with Grant Nixon Runner-Up, Randy Boorse, Consolation and Dennis Quinlan, Huff & Puff, for the United Oilfield Chemicals trophies. Anthony Peters won the final flight, with Al Macleod as Runner-Up, Ron Dunlop as Consolation winner and Mike Chubey as Huff & Puff winner.

In addition to the trophies, a wide range of merchandise prizes from various donors were given out, ranging from fish smokers to remote-control 4 x 4's, golf bags to very appropriate umbrellas.

Council notes

Elk Point Town Council dealt with a variety of matters at their August 15 regular meeting, with recreational and cultural matters taking top billing.

With minor wording changes, spelling corrections, and additions to the title page, Bylaw 486/88, the Town's new Recreation and Culture Master Plan, was given its third and final reading.

On a cultural note, Council was informed that the VIP tour and reception at the Buckingham House and Fort George fur trading fort sites had been rescheduled from September 11 to August 28. (This date has since been changed to September 3.) Deputy Minister of Culture, J. S. O'Neil will tour Steve Andrichak's museum August 22.

Mayor Mann told Council that the Elk Point Mural had been moved to a temporary site in the Community Services Centre due to the former location being rented. The Historical Society has hired John Tilton to apply the protective finish to the mural and to construct the frames in which it will be erected. The Administration has been instructed to look into insurance coverage which will be required once the mural is erected on Town land, and becomes Town property.

Moving along to recreation, Council was informed that the Elk Point Agricultural Society has tentative plans to erect a show ring within municipal corporate limits, and that they are investigating the possibility of purchasing land in the north subdivision from the Town for this project.

Elk Point and District Lions Club has agreed to donate $8000 toward construction of new ball diamonds on the recreation land, paying the donation in four quarterly payments, beginning December 1, 1988. Council moved to direct a letter of thanks to the Lions for their donation.

Clandonald News Happenings

By Shirley Osinchuk

We wish to express our sympathy to the families of Mrs. Margaret Conaghan and Mrs. Effie Allen, who have passed away recently. Both ladies were long time residents in the Clandonald and Dewberry area, and were well known and loved.

On a happy note, we welcome Justin John Povaschuk, born to Maria and Danny on July 27, and Brendan Patrick Braithwait, born to Karen and Gordon on July 22.

Monica McGowan, from Ireland, paid her annual visit to Canada, to her aunt and uncle, Rosie and Dan McMullan. She enjoyed the hot weather here, then took a trip to Reno. We do not know what the weather was like there, but the report is that she was not lucky at the gambling tables.

Margaret and Loretta Convey had successful ball seasons again this year. Margaret (Thompson) played on the gold medal winning fastball team from St. Albert, playing in Whitehorse.

Loretta Lysons and Maureen Solberg played for Sherwood Park on the Slowpitch team that won the Provincial gold medal. They will play in the Western Canadian Finals in Grande Prairie in September.

The Rusylvia Northmen Fastball team held their wind-up party on Aug. 13. The team award winners were: Gordon Harasiuk—Most RBI's and Most Home Runs; Michael Podhaniuk—Most Improved Player; Rob Yarmuch—Rookie of the Year; David Harasiuk—Most Stolen Bases, and Highest Batting Average. Mike Nowosad tied with David for Highest Batting Average. Matt Harasiuk received the 'Half Horse' award, as fan of the year.

Congratulations to Vermilion and the over 700 volunteers who held a very successful Seniors Games. Clandonald people who took part included Fannie Burns, Lizzie Lawrence, Marion and George Convey, Josie McIntyre, Mildred and Frank Molineux, who carried the flame.

School begins August 29 in Clandonald.

Sunday services will begin again in the Bible Fellowship Church on Sept. 4 at 11 a.m. Pastor Steve Elich and his family will be back from a summer of study at the Prairie Bible Institute.

Catholic church services will be at the regular times.

On the day of the Clandonald Fair, the Deputy Prime Minister of Canada and his wife drove themselves to Clandonald. They sat down in our arena, ate a pancake breakfast, chatted with people, then went off on their own to ride in the parade. After the parade, they came back to the arena again, spent time enjoying the entertainment, then left to drive themselves home or wherever.

In what other country in the world is the second highest person in the government able to travel and mingle so freely? Thank God for the privilege of living in Canada.

The shipwrecked mariner had spent several years on a deserted island. Then one morning he was thrilled to see a ship offshore and a smaller vessel coming toward him.

When the boat reached the marooned sailor, the officer in charge handed him a bundle of newspapers, and said, 'With the captain's compliments. He suggests you read through these and let us know if you still want to be rescued.'

Horse Show Gymkhana planned

By Charlene Baker

Elk Point Agricultural Society is holding a Family Horse Show and Jackpot Gymkhana on Sunday, August 28 at the Stoney Lake Stampede Grounds.

Registration will be taken from 8:00 to 9:15 a.m., with the show to start at 9:30 a.m. sharp.

We are offering classes to accommodate all ages: Senior—16 and over, Junior—11 to 15, and PeeWee—10 and under. Morning and early afternoon will be made up of the Horse Show events: Showmanship, Pleasure, Equitation, Reining, and Trail, also two new classes, English Pleasure and Equitation.

Our entry fee is only $3 per class with rosette ribbons to 6th place and prize money of $20 for first, $15 for second and $10 for third in each class.

The Gymkhana classes will be held after the Show events, and are $2 per class to enter, with prize money allotted on a jackpot basis. These classes include Junior and Senior Barrels, Poles, Hot Dog Race, Nightherder Race, Musical Tires, Keyhole Race and Bareback Dollar Bill.

A concession will be open all day, and an added plus will be a steak supper available after the show.

There is no charge for watching, so come on out. There will be lots of fun for both spectators and riders.

In the past few years, there has been a marked increase in participation in horsemanship activities in the lakeland area, shown in the increase of entries at local horse shows. We plan to continue to have a horse show each year, and to expand it. We would have had this year's show in conjunction with the Elk Point Fair, but the dates did not work out, with another Fair and Show on the same date, which would have defeated our aim to attract riders on the local horse show circuit.

other inquiry, and strawberry root weevils were touched on.

Help was requested in identification of some new weeds, while others came to look at the display of posters on scentless camomile, a noxious weed trying to obtain a foothold in the county.

Meanwhile, DHE Monica King was explaining the best method for obtaining cranberry juice from the abundant crop available this year. Yet another lady brought a begonia in sad state, with a debilitating disease, a diagnosis being pending at the time I left.

It is Monica King's intention to be in Elk Point one day per month, only, at this time, and she will adjust her visits, depending on the calls put to her for assistance.

Coffee and doughnuts were available, and appreciated, and the displays showed canning procedures, together with a pressure canner, used to safely can vegetables and meats. Information on the dangers of bacteria and microorganisms in foods, and how to overcome this problem are part of the DHE's agenda.

Pamphlets are available from the DHE on an up-coming 'Farm Finances' program being planned for the coming winter, and also an outline of the services offered by the Department of Agriculture office in St. Paul and Elk Point.

A new program is usually a bit slow in getting off the ground, but it is hoped this service will be useful to the community, and that anyone with problems fitting these categories will feel free to drop in or phone. The Department of Agriculture aims to be 'at your service.'

Winding down

The last full week of summer is upon us, and things are gradually winding down.

Children's activity programs at library and playground, and teen activities, too, are coming to an end as the younger generation gets ready to head back to the books. The dedicated young ladies who have run these programs over the past two months will also head back to the books, and they will leave knowing that their summer hours were well-spent, if not exactly relaxing.

The endless stream of motor-homes, campers, trailers, and boats which have made up the summer traffic is gradually thinning out, and will be reduced even further after the final, long-weekend spurt, as holidayers head homeward, and the Tourist Information Centre closes for another season.

Long, leisurely evenings at the beach will turn to evenings indoors over homework and hobbies, mornings spent sleeping in will be destroyed by the shrilling alarm clock and the call of the school bell. Cut-offs and tank tops will give way to new fall fashions, and bare feet will once again become accustomed to shoes.

Even nature is changing, with the first golden leaves appearing and the mornings and evenings becoming noticeably cooler.

For everything, it is said, there is a season. The coming months will bring the season of golden days, harvest, and preparing for winter.

Summer was so short! Maybe next year...

FAIR-TIME FUN--At the Clondonald Fair, log-sawing is part of the fun, while others wait for the Tug-of-War to commence. I. Magnusson

Alberta Trails

The tradition of fairs

By Irene Magnusson

'Say, are you going to Scarborough Fair?' pleads the song, there to please watch for someone 'who once was a true love of mine...' The assumption being that everyone goes to the Fair. Many of us do, not necessarily to Scarborough Fair, but to our own hometown Fair, certainly.

Fairs carry a long tradition. They have been going on in various parts of the world for hundreds of years--perhaps forever. The first Fairs were parts of religious events, festivals of feastings and praise to a particular god, or saint.

Even in the most primitive times, goods were traded. When better to make these trades, than when a group of people gathered? Of course, it was harder to travel about, and meet others, in those long ago days, so when some big celebration was coming up, merchants, farmers and craftsmen made sure to be johnny-on-the-spot with the goods and services they had to offer.

Later, Fairs were organized by sellers when they had sufficient quantities of goods to make it worthwhile, and these became popular in Europe and the East. Mecca became a particularly popular Fair grounds, as the faithful gathered there in masses to worship. These still continue.

So important were Fairs, in early days, that authorities granted special privileges, such as private courts to the convenors, to settle disputes arising. Always important to the people, Fairs reached a peak during the 13th and 14th centuries, particularly in Europe and England.

The most famous early Fair was at Champagne, in France. Another was held at Geneva. In Italy, great Fairs were held in Milan and Pavia, in Germany, at Leipzig, Strasbourg, and Frankfurt. In England, great Fairs developed at Stourbridge and London (...and of course, Scarborough).

Some Fairs featured special goods, such as cattle, or horses, or cloth. Others developed into labor marts, where those seeking work would go, and those needing labor would find them and hire them.

To brighten the passing hours, there would often be someone with a song to sing, a few balls to juggle, perhaps a trained bear to display.

These events passed the time, and made people happy, so they repaid this with a few coins. The entertainment tradition was born, with some Fairs turning into Pleasure Fairs, all entertainment, rather than sale of goods. Bartholomew Fair, in London, became one of these.

By the 19th century, more shops and permanent trading areas were in evidence, so less emphasis was placed on the trading aspect, and Fairs became more a place to 'show' what the prospective seller had available, by showing samples and demonstrations, which could then be ordered later. Leipzig became the centre of the great international Fairs.

In Russia, a bit slower to move to industrialization, Fairs were an important part of life much longer, well into the 20th century, with Novgorod (later named Gorki) the important Fair city. In the far East, outdoor 'markets' are held year round, with merchants of any and all commodities using the street edges, or any open area to hawk their wares or services--another kind of Fair.

Trade Fairs, where products and inventions were shown, became 'Exhibitions' and 'competitions' were common. Some featured only a few specialized products, as for example, an auto exhibition.

In the United States, County Fairs, or Agricultural Fairs, as we know them, were instigated by one Elkanah Watson, in Pittsfield, Mass., in 1811. He was able to get the local government to provide cash for prizes, in agricultural competitions, grains, canning, preserves, crafts, baking, etc. Cheese and butter making were popular skills. These Fairs lasted from one to two weeks, with all sorts of entertainment, and so became quite famous events.

In a way, Expo 86 was a Fair, as is the Edmonton Exhibition.

We have our own particular way of carrying on our own particular Fairs. At Vermilion, they have a midway, chariot races, livestock, a grandstand performance, machinery displays--and of course, the parade.

In other towns--other events. Clondonald has a Tug-of-War, fiddle contests, log-sawing, etc., etc.--a parade, too.

In Elk Point, we are open to change. Some years, there have been sports events and games, other years feature contests, displays of 'olden days' crafts, such as spinning, and ethnic cooking, or art displays. This year, it was to be antique cars--before plans were washed out by a down-pour.

Always, we have the tradition of household arts, crafts, skills and culinary finesse and samples of field and garden produce.

The rewards of showing are small, materially, a ribbon and token cash award, if you are a winner. A lot of work and sometimes disappointments, if you do not win. A certain amount of wasted produce, too, may result, for very little of the baking or vegetables will be usable after sitting on display. Preserves or jam are likely usable, and of course, no harm done to the crafts, needlework, art work, etc.

But forget the careful culling, sorting of peas and beans, mounting of photos. Forget the hours of baking (and cost of the ingredients), the polishing, the many stitches. Look to brighter things.

Once the entries are all assembled, the judging done, the ribbons affixed, once the Convenors have all tidy and ship-shape, and in readiness, and the doors open to us to view the offerings of our multi-cultured, multi-gifted, multi-motivated community--isn't a Fair great fun!!!

Anyone who can wander up and down the aisles, seeing the many, many creations of our neighbors and friends in this community, without being proud and thrilled--well, that 'anyone' isn't me.

I think we are a gifted gang, full of creativity and imagination, perseverance and skills. I have gratitude and admiration for those dedicated volunteers who, year after year, work to bring this Fair to fruition, who look after details, plan, meet, worry and work, and donate their time and energy, so our Fair will be attractive, smooth-running, will open on time, and above all--a lot of fun for all.

Recognition can also be given to those public-minded businesses and individuals who see fit to donate goods or cash to the winning entrants, thus backing community efforts with more than just words. Not that words of praise are not always welcome.

See you next year--at the Fair!

WHAT'S NEWS at the Library

By Kris Ann Maas and Michelle Whitlock

As the summer comes to a close, so does the Library's Summer Reading Program. This week will be the final program for both the elementary and preschool children. The children have shown great enthusiasm this summer in all the events Kris Ann planned for them. To continue with this tradition the parties are bound to be most entertaining and pleasurable.

The Elementary Summer Reading Program comes to an end with a SPLASH!! Along with the Aquatic Race, the elementary program will be having a mock Track Meet. The events include a prize for the broadest grin (Tug of War), a goodies scramble (marathon) and much, much more! And what would a party be without food? This year we have veggies and dip, crackers and cheese, and banana split bake for the picnic in the park.

The Preschool Summer Reading Program will have a party that revolves around books. We will read The Mystery of the Missing Peanut and then make peanut creatures. Other activities include a rabbit hop, a musical surprise, and a treasure hunt. Awards and food will be at the preschooler program also, so make sure you catch the action at the parties!

This week's movie is Charlotte's Web. This will be the last movie for the summer, so make sure you come and join us!

Last week we received twenty new talking books. These talking books are enjoyable for all ages and can be used by anyone. The books are prominently displayed at the library where you can see them.

4-H RATE OF GAIN WINNER--Dorothea Naber was presented with the CBM Confectionery trophy by Wayne Smith, during the Elk Point Fair.

Holly Burton, Garnet Gerke wed

Trinity United Church, Edmonton, was the scene of a wedding August 13, when Holly Ellen Burton became the bride of Garnett William Gerke. Reverend Norm Quigley of Edmonton and Reverend Sam Donaldson of Elk Point officiated.

The bride wore a full length gown of layered silk. The bodice was pearl-beaded lace in princess lines falling into a full skirt and train hemmed with lace. A cascade of drop pearls, leaves and silk petals held in place her full length veil. She carried a bouquet of pink orchids surrounded by gladiolus, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Heather Burton, maid of honor and Miss Penny Burton, bridesmaid, wore identical dresses of pink sateen with bouffant skirts, lace bodices, shoulder bows and long, cuffed sleeves.

Junior bridesmaids, Miss Melissa Lasko and Miss Amy Culhum wore dresses similar to the bridesmaids' with short puffed sleeves. All carried nosegay bouquets of pink gladiolus and white carnations.

Mr. Kevin Berglund and Mr. Bradley Gerke attended the groom. Ushers were Warren Love of Edmonton and Dwayne Vogel of Elk Point.

Miss Lee Ann LaBoucane of St. Paul was in charge of the guest book at a reception held at the Fantasyland Hotel. Mr. Robert Trapp, also of St. Paul, seated the guests. Mr. Jim Burton, the bride's uncle, proposed the toast to the bride.

The dance band 'Daybreak' played as Garnett and Holly, dressed in her white dress identical to the bridesmaids, waltzed with their guests.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Lawrence Pidluzny, Terry Wozniak and Colleen Cameron of Elk Point, Pierre Chamberland, Helen and Randy Dutchuk of St. Paul, and Eddy Irvine of Lindbergh.

A special thank-you to Holly's and Garnett's families and friends and to Virginia of Elk Point for the time and energy spent making such a memorable celebration.

"How To Turn Opportunity Into Enterprise"

Opportunity

By 1979, the Grover brothers, Ravi and Raj, had put in eight years working for a printing company, making labels. They were sure they had the experience and drive to do it themselves, better.

Challenge

To start their own label manufacturing firm, they needed to buy a press, hire a pressman . . . and find financing.

Solution

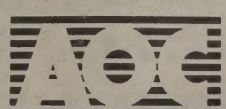

They went to the Alberta Opportunity Company — and AOC labelled their idea sound! What started as a three-person operation today employs twenty-two, making labels for companies across Western Canada. When Chromato expanded in 1985, and again in 1986, AOC was there to help, again.

Dewberry mini-fair a big success

By Shirley Osinchuk

The annual Dewberry Mini-Fair was held on Wednesday, August 17. In connection with the Fair, the Board of Trade held a Yard Contest, which included four inspections through the summer. The Most Improved Award was won by Patty Mulgrew, First Prize--Terry Bussiere, Second--Bernie Garnier, and Third--Neil Jones. No doubt, each of them would give credit to their wives for at least half of the work!

The Board of Trade 50-50 Draw was won by Laurie Durnin.

The Children's Races and the Gymkhana were held at the Sports Grounds early in the afternoon. There were five events in the gymkhana: barrel racing, pole bending, musical chairs, sack race and obstacle race. Overall winners were: Seniors--1. Shannon Illingsworth, 2. Joleen Bowman, and 3. Matt Hodgson. Junior overall winners were: 1. David Bensmiller, 2. Michelle Garnier, and 3. Lisa Bensmiller.

The UFA served a free, delicious pancake supper to over 375 people. Host, Meredith Whiteside, made draws throughout the supper hour, for windshield washer fluid, oil, grease, and flower arrangements given away to local winners. B. Mackinnon was the one winner who had not claimed his or her windshield washer fluid at writing time.

Special prizes to the outstanding exhibitors were: Most points in Homemaking--donated by Greenlawn Goodwill Club--Leona Cusack. Most points in Horticulture--donated by Dewberry Woodworks--Liz Zayak (also 1987 winner). Most points in Horticulture by a club member--donated by Horticulture Club--Marlene Brown. Adult exhibitor winning most points in Fair--donated by Dewberry Credit Union--Liz Zayak (also 1987 winner). Junior exhibitor winning most points in Fair--donated by Riverton Ladies Club--Diane Evison. Best Quilt prize--donated by Dennill's Garage--Liz Zayak. The Dewberry Co-op donated a can of dog food for each dog in the 'Fastest Eating Dog' contest--won by Shannon Illingsworth's dog. Overall Pet Show winner--donated by Jean Bowman--won by Shannon Illingsworth. Most points in Hobby Crafts--donated by Meredith Whiteside--Effie Anderson.

School work awards are presented at Awards Night later in the fall.

The decorated bicycle winners were: 6 and Under--Most Original--Arlinda Hodgson and Kurt Bensmiller; Most Decorative--Jennifer Hansen, first. 12 and Under--Most Original--John Kozak; Most Decorative--Aaron Hansen and Mark Kozak. Best Dressed Express Wagon--Michelle and Skye Garnier.

Biggest bug of 6 entries was a June bug shown by Tanya Bowman.

A new event, which drew a large crowd, was the frog races. Barbara Elliott's frog won first for kids 6 and under, and Landon Bowman's was first for kids 12 and under. Congratulations to the Dewberry Mini-Fair organizers and workers, on a successful day.

HAPPY HOPPER--this ambitious amphibian is off to a good start in the Frog Race.

BENCH EXHIBITS--included everything from dahlias to dinosaurs.

GYMKHANA WINNER--Shannon Illingsworth makes a tight turn of the barrels.

Good crowds attend Elk Point Fair

Entries were received at the Elks Hall in Elk Point, Friday, August 19, and seemed very slow coming in, then, as usual, just before closing time, a flood of entries appeared, filling the tables. The convenors were kept on their toes, and appreciated the delicious lunch served by Donna Babcock after closing time.

Judges had arrived, and soon they, too, were busy, facing the multiple decisions before them. Convenors followed along, with their helpers, pinning on the ribbons, rearranging the exhibits, until at last the tasks were all complete. Possibly all were at home by 10:00 p.m.

Opened at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, August 20, the hall was soon swarming with eager viewers, those who came to see 'how they made out' and others to merely look and admire the many offerings displayed.

There were several special displays, including those from Alberta Agriculture, who have recently opened a once-weekly extension office in Elk Point, and from the local 4-H Club. Several beautiful antique quilts, courtesy of Sylvia Garner, an heirloom quilt for the future, made with loving care by Blandine Adkins, and a joint effort by a local community group, were displayed near the craft sections.

Over in the Pioneer Circle Hall, a wide assortment of crafts were offered for sale by artisans, and it was busy there too, as the crowds moved from place to place.

Unfortunately, due to the inclement weather, the antique car display had to be cancelled. This was a disappointment both to the owners and to the viewers, but an outdoor showing would have been impractical in those showers. Ag. Society President and car show co-chairman Glen Harms has indicated that the show will be re-scheduled for a date in September, when it will be held, rain or shine, in the Arena. Watch for announcements as to date.

Aggregate awards were presented at 7:00 p.m. by Fair Board Chairman Margaret Modin, a good crowd gathering at that time. Mrs. Modin noted the large number of exhibits, and said she was 'excited about the new competitors, including many from the younger generation.'

Baking, convened by Irene Lindquist, had 70 delectable entries. Aggregate winner was Delores Zacharuk. The Canning section, convened by Muriel Holthe, had a heavily loaded table, with 171 entries, and Aggregate winner was Norma Berg. Fresh Fruit, also in charge of Muriel Holthe, showed that it had been a good year, with 89 entries, and again Aggregate winner was Norma Berg.

Grains and Hays, convened by John Bennett, has made a comeback from a poor showing last year, with 39 entries from 7 contributors. Norma Berg was the aggregate winner of this section. Vegetables, convened by Katherine Shymkiw, had a total of 139 entries, Aggregate winner was Irene Magnusson. Though late for some items, the display showed a good year.

Many beautiful flowers lit up the

which is encouraging. Convenor is Gaby Bayduza.

In Creative Writing, only a few entries were received, and perhaps this section will be dropped another year. Vicki Brooker convened, and had displayed a good selection of 'how to write' books, loaned by Elk Point Public Library. Irene Magnusson was Aggregate winner.

Last, but by no means least, the Photography section, convened by Lillian Demchuk, received a whopping 190 entries, mostly in the 35mm and Rangefinder classes, but some good 'other format' type photos were included, making for an overall tremendous display of beautiful photography. Sharon Kuhn was Aggregate winner. With such numbers of lovely photos, judging must have been difficult.

Grand Aggregate awards were offered, with Norma Berg a runaway First Place winner, with 271 points, and she is a third-time winner of this title. Her name is engraved on a permanent plaque, which hangs in the library. In addition, she received a plaque for her own wall from Vogel's UFA, and a cash award from Westminster Resources.

Second place winner in the Grand Aggregate count was Delores Zacharuk, winning a cash prize from Pan Canadian Petroleum, with third place a tie between Edith Mitchell, who won a dinner at the Hilltop Cafe, and Irene Magnusson, winning a cash prize from Golden Loaf Bakery.

All Aggregate winners received a red rosette, as well as the various prizes donated by caring businesses and individuals of the community. Thanks are extended from all the Fair Board volunteers to these groups and individuals for their concern and support. Thanks are extended also to the many helpers not named here, without whose help in so many ways, a Fair such as this could not be held.

Flower section, convened by Ivy Dunlop, and showed 99 entries. Aggregate winner in the flower section was Edith Mitchell. The flower display alone would be enough to draw many visitors, with all the brilliant colors. Not to be outdone, the House Plants section, under the convening of Rose Doucet, was also ablaze with lovely flowers and foliage, on the 77 entries massed in display. Norma Berg was Aggregate winner in House Plants.

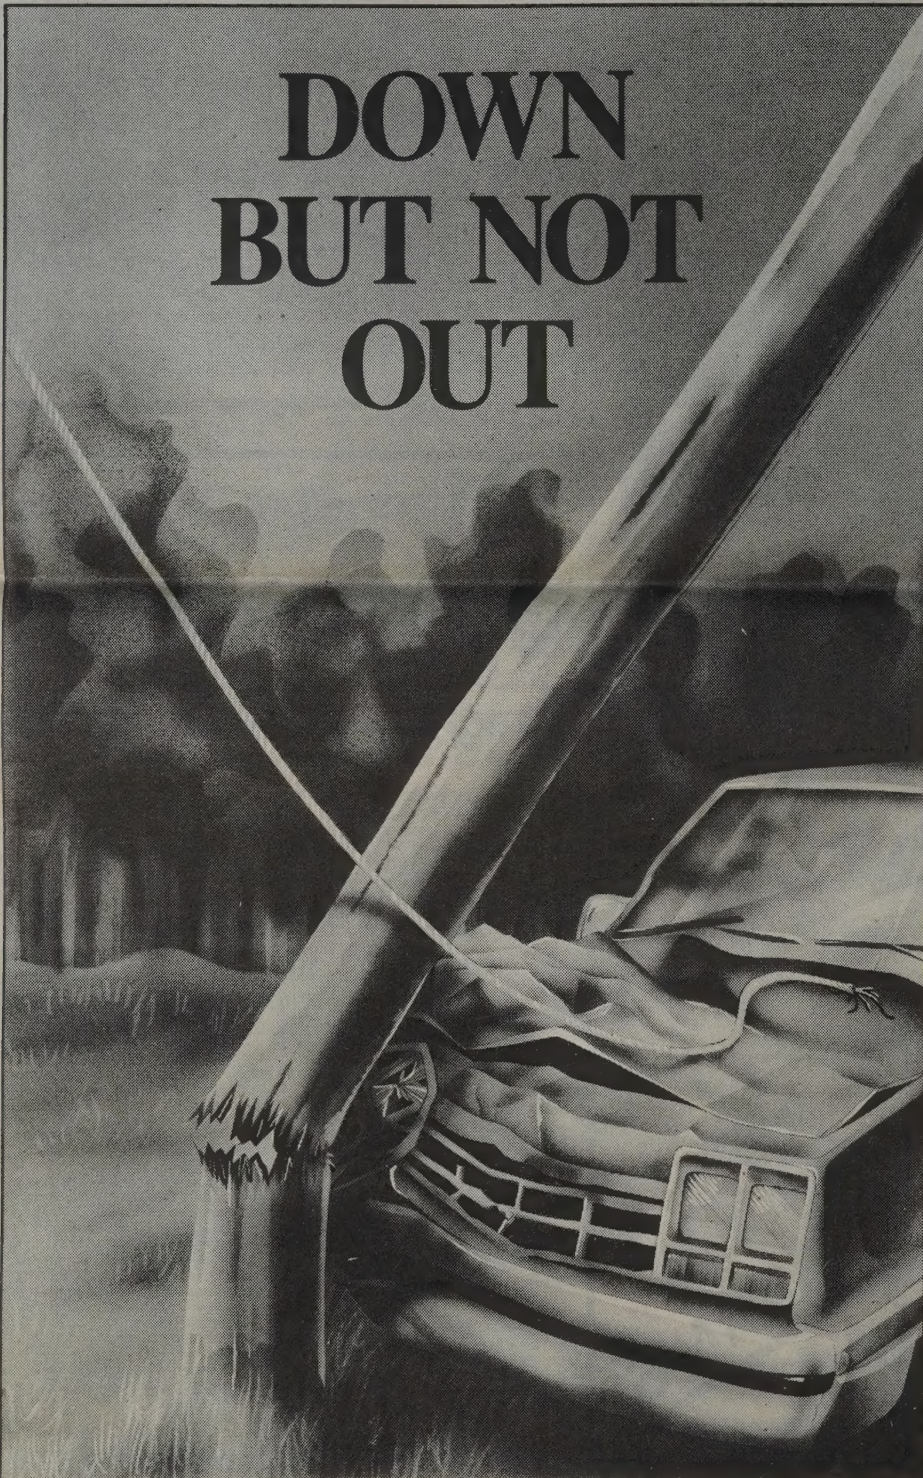

Art, Crafts and Hobbies is always fascinating to view, with the many and varied articles, and this year was no exception. Edith Mitchell was in charge, Aggregate winner was Verona Lee Flanders.

Next section over was the Knitting, Crocheting and Weaving, convened by Ellen Seward, with slightly fewer entries than some years, still lovely crafts to behold. Ardis Dobson received the Aggregate points in this section. The Sewing section, convened by Cheri Lindquist, had some really beautiful entries. R. Lee Johnson accumulated Aggregate points in the Sewing.

The Seniors' section, convened by Grace Barwick, showed varied and original items, excellent work, from a total of 19 entries, with 56 entries received. Of the 22 classes, only 2 had no entries, and two of the competitors were men, Mrs. Barwick said, which pleased her. Aggregate winner was Grace Barwick.

The Junior Fair section took a brisk upward turn this year, from last, with a total of 121 entries. There are 87 classes to choose from, so something for everyone. Two Aggregate awards were offered, with Jennifer Flanders and Kim Kurek being the two winners. A whole lot of interesting crafts were on display in the Junior Fair,

DOWN BUT NOT OUT

There's no sound. No spark. No warning.

A downed power line may look safe, but stay back. That innocent-looking electrical wire has the power to kill.

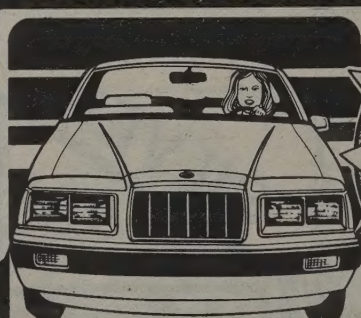

If the downed line is on or near your car and you can't drive away - stay inside and wait for help. Warn others to stay away from both your car and the line until Alberta Power is on the scene and the power has been turned off.

Don't take chances with downed lines. Your life depends on it.
